

"There are sea gulls." Harold was big enough to walk through the sea. A great big ship went by. It was an ocean liner. A big whale came up in the waves, spouting water. And just ahead of Harold was an old sailing ship. He easily caught up with it and passed it.

