

Harold was taller than the highest mountain. "I am higher than anything!" he said. Then, suddenly he thought of airplanes. Harold ducked his head just in time. It was a big jet plane flying very fast. There might have been a bad accident.

